ICBA's senior vice president of communications @AleisStokes was honored to participate in last week's @thesouthern #tscsummit and share the positive story of community banking with this inspiring group of entrepreneurs. A big thanks goes out to @whitneywiselong and @cherileavy of @thesouthern for their support and collaboration during this great event. And, of course, we can't thank @laurenbhoppkins and @kari_torstenson of @lbhprco, @amandawilbanksbakes of @southernbakedpie and Jamie Darling of @darlingsfinethings enough for telling their stories about how they work with their community banks to grow their incredible businesses. It was clear from the discussion that relationship banking made all the difference and was a win-win for everyone involved. Are you working with a community bank to grow your business or looking to find a community banker to talk with about your next great business idea? If so, we want to hear from you! Visit banklocally.org to find a community bank near you. #smallbusiness #communitybanking #banklocally #difference-makers
